

Canada To Reopen Proof-Like Orders Silver, Gold, Britain And France In The News

1965 Canadian Proof-like coins will be made available again to collectors this year. An announcement to this effect is forthcoming in the next few months and will specify limits per customer and mode of ordering.

This important change in Ottawa's plans was announced by Walter L. Gordon, Canadian Minister of Finance in Ottawa, according to dispatches received here.

The real importance of the move can only be measured in terms of the profound dissatisfaction which followed the "lightning" Proof-like set cut-off, in Ottawa last January 2 Canada's decision emerges as a sensible and genteel move which will be appreciated by thousands of grateful coin collectors.

As a result of the potential reopening of orders, the "percentage boys" took their first big beating of the season. 1965 Proof-like sets of Canada were trading at $12 for future deliver just before the announcement. A few hours later prices dropped to the $8 level.

Silver in the News

"Public confidence in a currency is a subtle thing" stated Mr. Simon Strauss, vice president of American Smelting and Refining Company in an address before the Colorado Mining Association. He added: "and the sense of security engendered by the circulation of coins of intrinsic value is not something to be cast aside lightly."

Dispelling the somewhat flimsy arguments on foreign silver coinages set forth by the Silver Users Association, Mr. Strauss elaborated: "For the last five years France has been minting a silver five-franc coin—equivalent in face value to $1 at current exchange rates. Now the decision has been made to mint this year a silver ten-franc coin, equivalent to $2 in face value. It will be slightly smaller in size than the U. S. silver dollar and will have about 90% of the silver content of the dollar."

"Italy has taken an even more significant step," Mr. Strauss added. "On January 28, the Bank of Italy announced that it would issue no new 500-lire banknotes after February 1 and these notes will cease to be legal tender on June 30."

"Thus by mid-year," Mr. Strauss explained, "the only legal currency item in the 500-lire denomination will be a silver coin, somewhat lighter than the U. S. 50-cent piece—11 grams in place of 12½ grams—and with an 83½% silver content in place of our 90%. The present exchange value of 500 lire is 80 cents U. S."

"These two developments are highly significant in the face of the claims, made by some who are urging elimination of silver from U. S. coinage, that intrinsic value in a medium of exchange can be a serious disadvantage," Mr. Strauss observed. "The governments of France and Italy obviously think otherwise or they would not be taking these steps at this time."

U. K. Devaluation

"In fact, so far as I am aware, the only major industrialized country without silver in its subsidiary coinage is Great Britain. The British converted to cupro-nickel coinage in 1946 when the pound sterling was selling at $4. This decision was the first step in the deterioration of the position of British currency. Since then the pound has been devalued to $2.80 and is again under pressure."

Gold and DeGaulle

According to Reuters dispatches from Paris, General De Gaulle advocated a return to a gold standard, and said there was a "golden rule in international exchanges to restore equilibrium from one monetary zone to another by means of the precious metal."

General De Gaulle said the situation should be thoroughly re-examined by the countries concerned, and considered that the international Monetary Fund, as well as the "club of ten" was a suitable place for such talks.

He said France ardently desired to save the United Nations and added, "It is evident that Washington, Moscow, London, Peking and Paris should reach an understanding on this matter." He suggested the meeting should be held in Geneva.

"The gold exchange no longer corresponds to today's realities. Its drawbacks are increasing."

"This is the time to reconsider the question calmly," General De Gaulle told a press conference.

"The transcendental value of the dollar has been lost," he said.

"The dollar is no longer an impartial international measure of value, it is a means of payment belonging to a single nation."

The "six" now have as big gold reserves as the United States and they would have bigger reserves still if they changed all their dollars into gold, stated De Gaulle.

Gold Legislation Opposed

Forty-six members of the Economists' National Committee on Monetary Policy (79 Madison Ave., N. Y. 16) have signed a resolution opposing the reduction or removal of the gold reserve requirements as proposed by President Johnson.

They said "this procedure would mean a further weakening in the quality of our dollar."

The resolution stated: "A reduction in our gold reserve requirements constitutes a move toward a weaker currency. A repeal of those requirements would throw this nation into a fiat money system, the weakest and most dangerous type of money known to man."

"The present relatively low ratio of our monetary gold stock to our nongold dollars and the fears of other nations regarding the future value of our dollar arise from the profligate and reckless expansions of our nongold dollars and the widespread contentions that gold is an unimportant or unnecessary element in a good monetary system. To weaken still further the quality of our dollar is to make even more dangerous the position in which this nation now finds itself."

"The correct solution is to be found in giving our dollars of all varieties the quality of integrity. Then the demands for our gold, in preference to the more convenient and economical substitutes should tend to subside. To provide this quality, the gold standard should be instituted at the present statutory rate of $35.00 per fine ounce of gold. Such action should cause the Government and banks to exercise greater restraint in the use of nongold substitutes, should induce the release and addition to our monetary gold stock of a large portion of the $12,672,000,000 of gold earmarked for foreign account, and should cause an exportation of gold to this nation."

"There is no good substitute for a thorough-going gold standard and the restraining influences it exercises over governments and banks in the uses of nongold money and credit. Our present monetary difficulties illustrate the importance of that fact."

Senator Bennett on Gold

An urgent plea for sanity and restraint in considering the gold situation was made by Senator Bennett-R of Utah who hoped that witnesses will "avoid intemperate statements of panic and crisis" during the hearings by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

Israel's Coinage Themes

A Survey Of Metallic Currency, 1948-1964

By Christian F. Verbeke

FOR coinage design to reflect the mood and character of a nation would seem a reasonable goal. Few countries have this distinction however as decades of dull effigies and cluttered designs monotonously pour out of coinage presses from antiquated establishments scattered around the world.

Israel however, either by design or instinct, has broken the spell of dullness and ranks high amidst coinages of imagination and personality. Artistic freedom and versatility are evident on Israel's coinage. Commemorative coinage for that country has been produced by a variety of foreign establishments, among them the Birmingham Mint, Holland's Mint in Utrecht, Berne in Switzerland, and more recently by Italy's La Zecca.

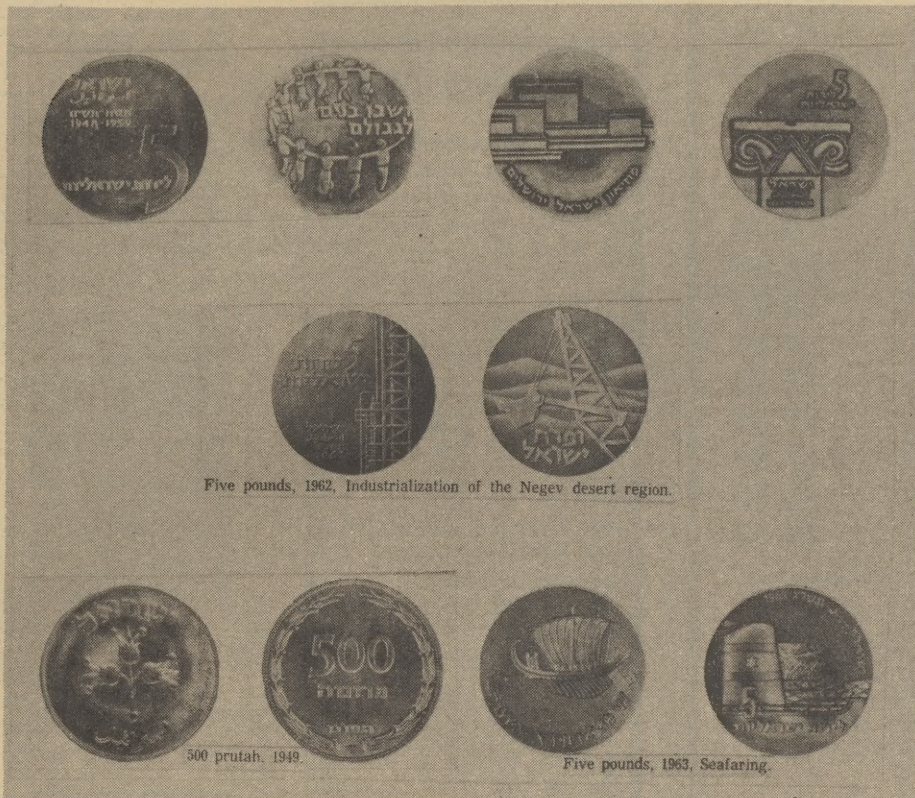

Numerous themes are represented on Israeli coinage, the adoption of designs with a distinct agricultural motif in 1948 symbolizes Israel's rural economy during the years of inception, but above all the links with Hebrew history and heritage.

A branch with three pomegranates, the palm tree, the vine leaf and the barley ears, are designs which can be found on ancient Hebrew money. Other ancient symbols, the grape bunch, lyre, amphora and wreath of leaves are attributed to the Bar-Kokba war period (132-135 A.D.)

Religious imagery best characterizes Israel's modern coinage; recent years saw commemorative issues celebrating the Chanuka, the Bar-Mitzvah, the feast of Purim and other motifs which clearly identify Jewish religious life.

Israel and Vatican City are virtually the only countries which extensively honor religion on their coinage, the latter's position as spiritual leader of the Catholic world explains this fact. Global religious leadership in Judaism, however, is not a clear-cut issue, therefore Israel's determination to make the religious theme a recurring coinage feature might indicate the country's eagerness to assume the spiritual leadership of the Judaic world. This theory is of course speculation and is the subject of debate between Zionists and opposing factions.

Israel's economy has undergone radical changes in recent years; from an essentially rural and agricultural economy now emerges a vast industrial and commercial complex. A recent Barclay's Bank Survey indicated "the Kibbutzim (community enterprises) are making an increased contribution to industrial development, and instead of continuing to concentrate solely on agriculture, the communal settlements have well over one hundred industrial enterprises ranging from small workshops to large industrial plants."

Israel's recent industrial accomplishments were highlighted in 1962 by the issuance of a 5-pound crown commemorating the industrialization of the Negev. (See comparative illustrations.)

During 1965 Israel's merchant fleet will increase to one hundred vessels with a one-million tons capacity. Israeli fishing trawlers now operate in the Indian Ocean, Red Sea, and off the South African Cape. All these developments are commemorated on the 1963

5-pound silver crown, paying tribute to seafaring. (See comparative illustrations.)

Israel's monetary system underwent several changes since independence. Immediately following the British mandate, the unit was 1-pound = 100 mils (as still retained in Cyprus), followed by 1-pound = 1000 prutah. In 1960 this system was abandoned in favor of the 1-pound = 100 agorot division still in course. The Israeli pound is quoted at approximately U. S. $.34.

A recent survey shows that bank notes in circulation are backed as follows:

Item	Oct. 1963 Israeli pound ('000)	Oct. 1964 Israeli pound ('000)
Gold	158,546	167,036
Foreign currency balances	408,952	487,295
	567,498	654,331

Asides of its coinage intended for general circulation (see systematic table) Israel has issued numerous commemorative issues in alloy, silver and gold. Most of these coins were issued in proof condition and offered at an initial premium. (See table.)

Of particular interest to world crown collectors are the 5-pound commemorative silver issues (crowns) 1958-1964 struck of silver 900 fine, weighing 25 grams, and measuring 34 millimeters in diameter. The predecessor to these issues was the 500-prutah crown of 1949, struck of silver 500 fine however.

A brief descriptive review of Israeli crowns by year follows:

1958, 5-pound, Israel's 10th anniversary commemorative. Obverse, modernistic numeral "5". Inscription "Israeli pounds" in Hebrew to left; "Israel" in Hebrew and Arabic in upper left with dates 5718 and 1958. Reverse, modernistic Menorah in asymmetrical square struck intaglio. Edge inscription: in Hebrew, incuse, "Tenth Anniversary of the State of Israel."

1959, 5-pound, Israel's 11th anniversary. Theme: Ingathering of the Exiles. Obverse: Modernistic numeral "5", inscription "Israeli pounds" to left, similar to 10th anniversary crown. Hebrew and Arabic dates 5708-5719 and 1948-1959. Reverse: Allegorical figures of eleven (11) immigrants (representing the 11th anniversary).

RARE 1964 DIME VARIETY

at the FUTURE!

Remember the 1960 Small Dates and the 1955 double die cent, they sold for less than the now popular Pointed Tail 9 dimes. Look at what they sell for now: $400 for a roll of 1960-P Small Date and $300 for one 1955 DD. Now, while they're young and cheap, the Rare 1964 Pointed tail 9 Dimes BU sets in holder, 1964-P pointed tail 9 and 1964-P blunt tail 9, only $2.00 a set. Order 3 sets for $5.00. The 1964-D pointed tail 9 and 1964-D blunt tail 9, BU sets in holder, only $1.00 a set. Order 3 sets for $2.50.

We feel the Pointed tail 9 dimes to be rare, less than 2,000,000 mixed with over 400,000,000 and they're still making more Blunts!

Reiterating his position,
Senator Bennett stated:
"In order to maintain the standing of the U. S. dollar, we must be committed to dollar conversion to the last ounce of gold.

"I mention this provision allowing conversion without any congressional or presidential action only to illustrate that we are not considering the removal of the gold backing from our currency out of necessity or weakness. Nations are not clamoring for our gold reserves. Our commitments could be met without any legislative action.

It is desirable, however, that we do take legislative action to assure all who might be concerned that we do intend to keep the dollar strong.

"Several proposals have been introduced. Many more, based on minor technical differences, could also be introduced. However, the three major alternatives are:

"First. To eliminate all gold backing from both our Federal Reserve notes and our deposit liabilities. This proposal would completely eliminate any tie of our domestic currency to gold.

"Second. To eliminate all the backing from the deposit liabilities of Federal Reserve banks, but to continue full 25-percent backing of Federal Reserve notes in circulation.

"Third. To decrease the percentage of gold backing behind both Federal Reserve notes and our de-

"My research and analysis indicate that the second of these proposals is to be preferred. It would make available about $5 billion in gold with which to meet demands by foreign banks and to back the expected normal increase in our Federal Reserve notes as our economy expands. The Treasury proposal meets the need equally as well as do the other proposals, and at the same time it should cause the least concern which could develop into a crisis situation.

"It has been suggested by some that the gold backing of our currency does not perform any useful function. This point of view is based on the claim that we have a managed money supply, that it is not limited by the gold; and that U. S. citizens cannot exchange U. S. currency for gold, and therefore it is useless to keep the backing.

1965 B. U. CANADIAN COINAGE

Canadian coinage for 1965 promises to be the best yet. The obverse of all coins has been changed and now portrays a more mature image of Queen Elizabeth. We have seen Canadian coinage become scarce and prices rise in the years 1963 and 1964. We suggest that you order now while our prices are low. Again we offer our Layway Plan for easy financing.

WHY ORDER FROM THE DOWDS?

As the largest Canadian dealers in the States, we offer you a stock that is located in the States. When you order from us, there is no prolonged period of waiting for your merchandise to clear Customs, therefore no Customs fees. Also you do not have to take the risk of having your mint sealed bag opened at the borders.

In the long run it is cheaper and safer to become another one of the Dowds' satisfied clients.

Canadians please note our Canadian address. When shipping to our Canadian customers, we ship either Parcel Post or Rail Express from Montreal, again avoiding shipping between the countries.

Market Conditions

Excellent valuations of Israeli coinage have been published in the August issue of National Coin Investor. Yeoman's 1965 Guide of Foreign Coins is totally unreliable for valuations, however, as its prices are the barest approximations not related to actual market conditions.

It would be futile to attach a price tag to Israeli coinage in this study because of the rapidly changing market conditions and teletype operations. One fact clearly emerges however: Israeli mintages are extremely low and have met with increased demand after years of inactivity. Dealers continue to report heavy dealing in Israeli singles, types, and proofs, and it would now appear this market is ready for a major price advance inspite of what appears as already high prices.

Several reputable dealers have recently advertised the Israel 1949 500-prutah crown for $15.00, a reasonable price in our opinion considering the chronological age and total mintage. In investment lots of 10 coins, some dealers were willing to lower this price to $125 per lot. As a quick rule of thumb, the proof single is worth approximately two to three times its B.U. counterpart, although some exceptions prevail. This margin could narrow, however, as higher prices are witnessed

Israeli Coins 1965

Israel will issue 150,000 proof-like sets in 1965 according to an announcement by Yitzhak Avni, director general of the Israel Government Coins and Medals Corporation. It is estimated that some 130,000 sets have been earmarked for distribution in the United States.

Space City Averages:

How They Are Obtained

With close to 1,500 separate statistics appearing each week in PACE, a need exists to express this information in graphic form for busy readers. We are currently charting eight different coin series each week as you see below. These charts are based on Space City Averages, an arbitrarily chosen group of rolls which we feel are representative of the total for that series.

To be included in the Space City Averages rolls are chosen on the basis of three factors: (1) their trading is constant, (2) they are widely held, and (3) they are indicative of the series.

It is obvious infrequently traded items, closely held items, and extremes in the series would not serve this purpose.

Each week the statistical staff of PACE prepares these averages from the information obtained on The American Numismatics Exchange transactions.

The amount expressed in the Space City averages is the total market bid prices for the rolls included in the averages. This is a dollar figure and is compared with previous week, month, and year figures for analysis. The high and low for 1964 is also shown.

MARKET SUMMARY

February 10, 1965

By Russell Brown

THE market continued to have prosperous overtones this week with total advances exceeding declines by an eight to five margin. Franklin half dollars were the leaders, closely followed by Jefferson nickels, dimes and quarters.

The Franklin series saw fifteen advances and not a single decline as heavy buying took place throughout the denomination. While the 1953-P and 1955-P scored the biggest gains dollar wise, they were joined by the late date issues whose gains of one and two dollars each were just as large, percentagewise. As a matter of fact, the issues from 1958 through 1963 were demanded as actively as we have ever seen in recent months. It is likely that the possible increase in silver prices has stirred up this interest in the issues with prices close to face.

Jefferson nickels continued their advance of last week with heavy demands for the war year issues. The 1942-D and 1942-P II recorded gains of $15 and $12, respectively. The 1948 and 1949 San Francisco issues were also traded in large numbers though the supply was never large enough to fulfill the demand. Many rolls of 1950-D's were offered in the $815 range and it appears that the advance of the King has reached another plateau for at least a short rest. Several requests for a roll of 1939-D's were met with silence and a bid increase did not locate any for purchase.

While ten issues of dimes advanced this week, the gains were of a small order of magnitude. The 1948-P rose five dollars and this was by far the largest price movement. Interest in the 1955 issues seems to be easing somewhat and the only one of the three issues which could show a gain was the Philadelphia variety now trading in the $110 range. While there is considerable buying and selling interest in the late dates of most of the other series, the dimes are strangely quiet in this area. Only the 1960-P and 1961-P are requested in any quantity.

Washington quarters were somewhat mixed with the 1947-S and the 1955-D leading the way. The 1943-D and 1946-S were also in demand. All Philadelphia late dates rose at least two per cent over the week.

Proof sets were quiet with few demands for early date sets and all trading in late date sets taking place at established prices. It appears that the proof sets have reached a plateau like the 1950-D nickel and will remain at current prices until the profit takers complete their selling. As previously mentioned, finding early date sets with unblemished cents is becoming increasingly difficult and such sets command a premium in excess of quoted prices.

Lincoln cents were exactly split down the middle with fourteen gains and fourteen losses for the week. All price changes were small and there was little volume in the series. Interest in the small dates is now sporadic and the profit takers are definitely in evidence at this time.

And bringing up the rear as usual are the silver dollars. The count of thirteen advances and twenty five declines does not tell the true story for eleven of the advances were of the one or two dollar variety and most were caused by interest in the purchase of junk dates still near face. Meanwhile ten issues each went down by between five dollars and fifty dollars. There appears to be no particular reason for specific declines other than there is seldom a demand for a certain issue at the time it is offered and therefore the seller is forced to lower his price to move the roll.

The Market Opinion

Despite the rosy picture of advances and the new highs for the year in a number of series, we sense a gradual slowdown of buying by investors as such. Most of the buying seems to be taking place between dealers for the purpose of selling to other dealers. No matter what pundits would have you believe, there is a slackening of investment interest in the market which began in the late fall and still has not been overcome.

It is to be hoped that the market will continue to make slow and steady increases both in prices and in volume and the resulting picture of health and prosperity will bring new money into the market.

1957 and 1958 CANADIAN BU NICKELS

DATE	Mintage		Price
	In Millions
1953	17		$235.00
1954	7		510.00
1955	5		245.00
1956	9		150.00
1957	7		160.00
1958	7		150.00

- * The 1957 and 1958 nickels are lower in mintage than the 1953 and 1956 nickels which are much higher in price.
- * The 1957 and 1958 nickels at this moment according to their mintages have the price potential of $510.00 per roll. (The 1954 nickel roll with the same mintage of 7 Million sells for $510.00)
- * The 1957 and 1958 nickels are extremely common in circulated condition. (We estimate better than 98% of each date is in circulation), which would leave only 2% or 140,000 coins of each in uncirculated condition.
- * The 1957 and 1958 nickels are extremely scarce in uncirculated condition and the demand is much greater than the available supply.
- * The 1957 and 1958 nickels along with the 1954 nickels will be the key dates in the first Queen Elizabeth series and this series will be completed in 1964. (A new design with a more mature portrait of Queen Elizabeth will be minted in 1965). When the U.S. Franklin Half Dollar series was completed in 1963 the 1955 Franklin Half Dollar soared from $20.00 per roll to its present price of $200.00 per roll.

The 1957 and 1958 nickels in our opinion will sell for at least $500.00 and $450.00 per roll within three years.

We offer CHOICE Brilliant Uncirculated rolls of 1957 Canadian nickels at $160.00 per roll and CHOICE Brilliant Uncirculated rolls of 1958 Canadian nickels at $150.00 per roll. All rolls shipped in Tomken tubes (postpaid and insured).

Israel

Israel will issue a traditional 5-Pound silver commemorative crown to celebrate Israel's 17th anniversary of Independence. The selected subject this year is the Knesseth (Parliament) Building in Jerusalem.

1965 commemorative mintages will exceed 15,000 unlike the 1964 figures. The coin will be offered at $9 each for proofs and $4.50 each for brilliant uncirculated specimens.

This new development is bound to be interpreted constructively, as the distribution of some 130,000 proof-like sets will widely publicize the market for Israeli coins.

Director Avni stressed the fact that these sets would be distributed and marketed by "about a dozen United States dealers." Announcements to this effect should be forthcoming shortly.
